Re: Appeal of ALJ Decision
Case No. 25-A-05051 (Golub v. Granite School District)

Madam Chair and Members of the Board:

I write in further support of my timely appeal from the Administrative Law Judge's 9 July 2025 decision denying unemployment-insurance benefits under Utah Code § 35A-4-405(1). For the reasons that follow, the decision is infected by reversible legal error and clearly erroneous fact-finding. The proper remedy is reversal with benefits allowed for the week ending 18 May 2025 or, at minimum, a de-novo remand.

I. Procedural Posture

The Board acknowledged my appeal on 11 July 2025 and invited written argument within 15 days. This memorandum therefore arrives well within the window prescribed by Utah Code § 35A-4-406(3) and Utah Admin. R994-508-304.

II. Statement of Facts (Record Citations in Brackets)

1. May 5, 2025 — Account Deactivation and Police Interrogation. While covering a first-grade dance class at Taylorsville Elementary (Granite SD), the principal summoned law-enforcement officers—including a K-9 unit—after accusing me of smoking cannabis on campus. The officer detected no odor and took no action, yet Granite immediately disabled my Frontline scheduling account, the only portal through which substitutes accept work [Exh. E1, Employer log].

2. Immediate Protest. I immediately emailed Associate Directors Wyatt Bentley and Brenda Byrnes demanding reinstatement and protesting the false allegation. Granite did not respond for eight days. (NB all references to email correspondence are approximate, as the Granite School District never reversed the deactivated my Granite District email—peter.golub@graniteschools.org.)

3. May 13 emails. When Granite finally replied, Mr. Bentley raised an unrelated classroom-management issue from April. I tried to make it clear that I needed to continue working for Granite and had even invested my own time to compose a document that would help the district address its troubling lack of academic rigor and pedagogical procedure. I remained ready to work once my account was restored and concluded, "I don't want to waste any more of your time,"—a phrase the ALJ later mischaracterized as a resignation. I needed and wanted to get back to work and hoped that by staying in the district I could be part of the small cadre of teachers who believed that assigning students AI tutors we could remedy failing test scores, drop out rates, and lack of student participation.

4. May 15 Phone Call & Email Shutdown. When a meeting was finally schedules, Mr. Bentley failed to contact me on the correct date, instead calling me on a different day and time. When he finally contacted me on the scheduled time, I'd intended to discuss AI-literacy curricula. Mr. Bentley addressed neither these concerns nor the May 5 incident. Within hours Granite permanently closed my district email account and cut off all communication.

5. July 8 Hearing Concession. At 46:26 of the certified audio recording, the ALJ halted my cross-examination, noting that Mr. Bentley "already said he doesn't remember exactly what you said" i.e. Mr. Bentley admits I never said "I quit" or anything of that nature. This on-the-record admission undercuts the decision's finding that I verbally quit [Hearing Audio, 46:26-46:40].

6. Unemployment Claim. I filed for benefits effective 18 May 2025 and have filed weekly claims and more than thirty job applications while awaiting a determination.

III. Grounds for Reversal

1. Employer-Initiated Separation Under Governing Rule. Utah Admin. Code R994-405-201 states: "A separation is a discharge if the employer was the moving party in determining the date the employment ended." By locking me out of Frontline and deactivating every credential, Granite made further work impossible—an involuntary discharge, not a quit. See also Clearfield City v. Dep't of Emp't Sec., 663 P.2d 440, 445 (Utah 1983) (benefits may be denied only where employee's fault justifies termination).

2. No Showing of Culpability, Knowledge, or Control. The Department's three-factor test for "just cause" (culpability, knowledge, control), upheld in Kehl v. Bd. of Review of the Indus. Comm'n, 700 P.2d 1129, 1135 (Utah 1985), requires evidence that the claimant knowingly violated a reasonable rule. Granite offered none. Its own witness could not recall my alleged resignation, and the ALJ acknowledged that gap.

3. Burden Misallocated. R994-405-105 places the initial burden on the employer to prove a voluntary quit. By forcing me to disprove a quit, the ALJ inverted the rule, warranting reversal.

4. Reliance on Undisclosed Evidence. The decision quotes internal Granite emails that were never provided after my accounts were shut down. R994-508-118 forbids reliance on undisclosed exhibits absent a written good-cause finding, which is absent. In other words, they have all the written evidence without sharing it with the side of the appellant.

5. Findings Contrary to the Record. The ALJ simultaneously found that Granite "had not decided to discharge" me yet admitted my accounts were disabled. Those findings cannot coexist. Moreover, the supposed statement "I don't plan to work for the District" appears nowhere; the only direct evidence is Mr. Bentley's memory lapse at 46:26 of the recording.

6. Equity-and-Good-Conscience Ignored. Even if the Board classifies the separation as a quit, R994-405-103 mandates an equity-and-good-conscience analysis. I filed timely claims, searched diligently for work, and remain attached to the labor market—the precise behavior the rule protects.

7. Retaliatory Hostile Environment. The May 5 incident, followed by instant deactivation of my credentials, created an intolerable work environment satisfying any constructive-discharge standard. Even if the Board finds reasonable suspicion existed on May 5, Granite's own Policy IX.A.1.b § D demands that any test be 'conducted … by a laboratory certified for employment drug and alcohol testing.' The principal instead insisted on an immediate blood draw in a grade-school hallway—conduct expressly forbidden by both the policy and Utah Code § 34-38-6. Under R994-405-202(2)(b) a claimant who resists an unlawful directive is not disqualified from benefits; therefore, my objection to an on-the-spot blood draw cannot constitute "fault" under § 35A-4-405(2)."

IV. Relief Requested

- Reverse the ALJ and allow benefits beginning the week ending 18 May 2025; or
- Remand for a de-novo hearing with instructions to:

  1. Order Granite to produce all emails dated 1-15 May 2025 referencing my employment.
  2. Subpoena the Taylorsville Elementary principal and responding officer regarding the May 5 K-9 incident.
  3. Authenticate the July 8 recording and certify that no ALJ log exists, consistent with the Appeals Unit's representation that "there are no notes from the ALJ."

Respectfully submitted,
/s/ Peter Golub
Appellant-Claimant

DECLARATION OF PETER GOLUB
Utah Code § 78B-5-705 – Unsworn Declaration
State of Utah, Salt Lake County

I, Peter Golub, declare under penalty of perjury that the following statements are true and based upon my personal knowledge:

1. Identity. I am the appellant-claimant in Workforce Appeals Board Case No. 25-B-00327. I reside at 3921 S 2000 E, Holladay, Utah 84124.
2. Assignment on 5 May 2025. On the morning of 5 May 2025, I accepted a same-day substitute-teacher assignment through Granite School District's Frontline portal to teach at Taylorsville Elementary School. I put on the three-piece suit that is my typical attire for teaching, though I often leave the jacket in the car, so that the day of the incident I was dressed in a pressed dress shirt, tie, waistcoat, pressed slacks, and classic black Florsheim wingtips.
3. Lack of Class Materials. Upon arrival the main office provided no roster or schedule, so that I knew neither when classes began or ended nor who was supposed to be in my class. After I'd complained about this multiple times, a secretary handed me a sticky note that listed times for an unrelated class (and for the wrong year). I informed office staff that the absence of a roll and schedule made it impossible for me to plan classes and verify which students belonged in the room.
4. Unsanitary Classroom Conditions. When I entered the dance room a strong odor and industrial cleaner was present. During first period, there was also a strong odor of feces. I mentioned the smell to a passing teacher and suggested discreetly checking if any child needed a change of clothes. I declined to spray Lysol disinfectant while children were present as this is harmful to health.
5. Noise Complaint & My Response. Another teacher complained about music volume. Because dance requires audible music, I reduced the level but explained that dancing is a loud activity and that perhaps the school could hold its dance classes either in or near the gym which looked empty when I went and checked in the hope of moving the class.
6. Police and K-9 Intervention. After the first period, the principal and vice-principal entered with a uniformed police officer and a K-9 unit outside my window. The officer stated he detected no odor of marijuana. I cooperated fully and answered all questions. The charge was that I had been smoking marijuana in the class of first-graders. The claim was so incredible, I admit I was at a loss of what to say, except that what kind of a lunatic would smoke marijuana inside a elementary school class. When I said the class smelled like feces, the vice-principal told me that this was exactly what marijuana smelled like, which she knew as she'd been inside a junior high school boy's bathroom. Again, I was left speechless.
7. Principal's Demand for a Blood Test. Before students were to return from lunch the principal returned to my class for a third time and demanded that I submit to an immediate drug test on site. By this point, I was so shocked and humiliated, I packed my belongings, left the building. The only thing crazier than accusing me of consuming cannabis on school property is the demand that I submit a blood test.
8. Account Deactivation. That evening, when I attempted to pick up another assignment, Frontline displayed an error message (Exhibit A), informing me that my account had been deactivated. I emailed Granite immediately describing the shocking treatment I had received and requested that my account be reactivated. Then on 10 May 2025 Granite's system e-mailed my personal Gmail account confirming that all district credentials had been deactivated (Exhibit B).

9. Continued Desire to Work. At no time did I resign, quit, or indicate an intention to quit. Between 5 May and 13 May 2025, I sent multiple emails to Associate Directors Wyatt Bentley and Brenda Byrnes requesting reinstatement. Granite ignored those messages until 13 May 2025.
10. Impact on Employment. Because Frontline is the sole platform for accepting substitute work, deactivation rendered continued employment impossible. I remained willing and available to work but was technologically barred from doing so.
11. Authenticity. Attached as exhibits are a screenshot of the Frontline error message (Exhibit A) and the 10 May 2025 deactivation e-mail (Exhibit B).

I declare under penalty of perjury under the laws of the State of Utah that the foregoing is true and correct.

Executed on 18 July 2025, at Holladay, Utah.
